ASHLAND DOWNED

Exciting Game of Foot Ball at the Trotting Park.

BOTH TEAMS FOUGHT HARD

The Visitors Were More Stalwart, But the Home Team's Knowledge of the Game Counteracted Strength.

The Shenandoah and Ashland foot ball teams engaged in one of the most stubborn contests seen here this season at the Trotting park. Saturday afternoon, the home team winning by a score of 6 to 0. The visitors went upon the grounds primed with confidence and they were not a little surprised when the game got started and they realized what they had run up against.

The Shenandoahs took the kick-off and landed the ball at the Ashland ten-yard line. The visitors then proceeded with the ball, but lost. After a few gains by the home team Wertz ran over the line and scored the first touch-down, the play having lasted thirteen minutes. Jones kicked the goal and made the score 6 to 0 in favor of Shenandoah. The interference of McHale, H. Ross and Jones added Wertz considerable in making the touch-down.

The Shenandoahs secured the ball on the kick-off and lost it on four downs without the required gain. Ashland proceeded slowly to the Shenandoah goal. When but half a minute remained to complete the first half Captain Jones called for time, which was granted. Brocius ran over the Shenandoah line, not knowing that time had been called, and the touch-down was not allowed.

The second half of the game was even more exciting than the first and the Ashlands came dangerously close to scoring. They were prevented from doing so by Shortall's excellent tackle. Shenandoah then took the kick off and Ashland went down the field through centre like a sure winner, but they lost the ball on a fumble and Frost got it, at the same time receiving an ugly cut on the forehead. Shenandoah gained rapidly on good runs by Wertz and fine interference on the part of A. Rose and Malick. Shenandoah seemed to have the best of the half when the half ended.

The game was a most exciting one and the result should arouse sufficient interest on the part of the public to warrant better patronage for the home team. They play hard to give the spectators every advantage of the game and in Saturday's contest they successfully met an exceptionally strong team. The boys certainly deserve encouragement.

The teams lined up as follows in the game:

Shenandoah	Positions	Ashland
Frost	Right End	Snyder
McHale	Right Guard	J. Faust
Malick	Right Tackle	Young
Treize	Centre	Smith
Hennessey	Left Guard	Ellis
A. Rose	Left Tackle	Ward
Burke	Quarter Back	Broust
H. Ross	Right Halfback	C. Faust
Wertz	Left Halfback	Davis
Fossil	Full Back	Towell
Unipire-Wagner	Referee	H. C. Hooks

NOTES.
Snyder received an ugly wound in his forehead in the beginning of the first half, and Smith was substituted.

Treize, at centre, is a stone wall. Captain Jones would have to go many miles to find a man to take his place and play it as well. Arthur likes the game, having lost 12 pounds since the season opened.

Captain Jones gained good ground, charging the centre many times for gains of five or ten yards.
The management went in the hole on Saturday's game. Ashland received $20 guarantee, while the gate receipts only amounted to a little over $10. This is discouraging to the boys who have been putting up a good article of foot ball, having lost but two games this season.

For bargains in wall paper go to J. P. Carden, painter and paperhanger, 234 W. Centre street. He is selling out his entire stock at and below cost. Wall paper hung at lowest prices and in workmanlike manner. 10-18-tf

"The Limited Mail."
Since "The Limited Mail" has made such a phenomenal success, no less than ten companies have been organized or have adopted locomotives, cars or similar effects, but the people appear to readily "get on to" the fact that Elmer E. Vance's play is the Simon pure—the "original Jacobs" so to speak, and while several of them are side tracked and ready for the scrap pile, Manager Vance is continually adding new features to the drama, and accumulating a larger bank account. At Ferguson's theatre on Wednesday evening, Oct. 24th.

No Decision Yet.
It was expected that a decision would be received to day from the Supreme Court on the appeal made by Mr. B. R. Severn from the decision in the quo warrant proceedings ousting him from office, but inquiry at Pottsville late this afternoon showed that no announcement had been made.

Still in the Church.
Services were held in the Evangelical church, corner of West and Cherry streets, again yesterday by the anti-Slavery congregation, Rev. Lichtenwalner, the pastor, conducting services in the morning and in the evening. Thus far no legal notice to quit the premises has been given the congregation and it will continue to hold services there until the requisite notice is forthcoming, although the building committee appointed by the congregation is on a still hunt for a site on which a new edifice is to be erected. One of the committee said last night that no place had been decided upon, but a meeting will be held this week for that purpose. There was no special reference to the situation of the church's affairs during the services yesterday.

Calamity Averted.
A calamity was barely averted on the Pennsylvania railroad, near St. Clair, Saturday night. A crew lost control of a train of coal and freight cars at Wetherill Junction and the train parted while thundering down the mountain. Near the St. Clair tunnel the engineer got his engine under control and met the rear section with a crash. Three cars were derailed and the wreck was soon cleared up. The accident happened a few minutes before the Shenandoah train left Pottsville at 9:40. It was about 9:30 when the mixed train rushed down the mountain and as the freight had instructions to side track to permit the passenger train, to pass, a collision was narrowly averted.

Another Republican Rally.
The Republicans of town are preparing for another rally next Wednesday night. Either Congressman "Jack" Robinson, a great favorite here, or Congressman Daizell and Hon. C. N. Brumm will be the speakers of the evening. A meeting is to be held to-night to decide upon a program.

Excavation Completed.
All excavations for the storage reservoir of the public water works at Fowler's Run have been completed and the force of laborers is now being reduced. The wagons used to haul the dirt that was thrown during the excavating were brought down from the reservoir Saturday night.

A Fine Vehicle.
Undertaker John Roberts has added to his already excellent equipment for funerals by the purchase of a funeral car, which has a striking appearance in comparison to the old-style hearse. The glass sides of the new vehicle differ from those of the hearse in that they are oblong in shape instead of oval. The vehicle has a very rich appearance.

GLEANINGS OF THE DAY.

DOINGS OF THE VETERANS.

They Have Called Upon the Younger Generation For Assistance and a Prompt Response Has Been Made.

The fine weather brought the people out in force yesterday and the two electric railway lines reaped a harvest in fares. The cars were filled all day and late in the evening. The weather was so pleasant that the summer cars were put into use again and they were kept in use until after dusk, when the temperature became somewhat cooler and the closed cars became favorites.

The popularity of open air concerts was again attested last night by the large assemblage at the corner of Main and Centre streets to listen to the concert given by the Lithuanian Band. The weather was delightful—genuine Indian summer weather—and the inspiring music made one feel that the summer months were much closer to the season than they really are. The Lithuanian Band is certainly making rapid strides in grasping the attributes of a good band and much of the credit for this is due to the very able directorship of Prof. Zeitz.

There was an amusing scene on West Lloyd street, near Main, last evening. As a party of women were passing over the board pavement on the south side of the street a huge rat ran across the boards. It struck the ankle of one of the women and she involuntarily jumped. When she saw the rat scamper from beneath her skirt she gave another jump and screamed as if she were about to meet with something terrible. At the same time the other women saw the rat as it ran to its hole, and they, too, jumped and screamed. If there had been chairs about the women would have been upon them in a jiffy. One seemed to be anxious to climb up the barber pole which was near at hand. The stripes on the pole seemed to spread out in laughter over the situation. Three men who were following the women hurried up to them when they heard the screams. When they saw the vigorous shaking of skirts and learned that a rat had innocently caused the commotion they fell into the merriment the barber's pole was feasting upon.

It is plain that Father Time is making inroads upon the lives of those of the survivors of the Rebellion who reside in town as well as other places. The elastic step of the majority of the "vets" residing here long since departed, but they retained sufficient vigor for years after to parade when occasion demanded and shoulder a musket or rifle, when it became their duty to play the last tribute of respect to one of their deceased comrades, by firing a salute over his grave. But nature has since been making more inroads and it can readily be imagined that it is with deep regret that the "vets" now bow to the inevitable and say they are now obliged to call upon the Sons of Veterans to relieve them of much of the ceremony attending the funerals. Watkin Waters Post, No. 146, G. A. R., has officially notified the members of Henry Horncastle Camp, No. 40, S. of V., that upon the occasion of all future funerals in town of veterans the younger generation will be expected to hold itself in readiness to carry out that part of the ceremony requiring the salute. Following the example set by the survivors of the Rebellion, as well as those who fell in it, the Sons of Veterans have cheerfully and promptly responded to the call of duty, and the members of the camp are now engaged in forming a firing squad of twenty from their ranks. This squad will provide itself with the regulation military uniform and the twenty bronze rifles which the camp owns will hereafter be ready for active service in doing honor to the defenders of the Union when they receive the final roll call.

THREE LARGE FUNERALS.

The Last Rites Performed Over the Remains of S. D. Hess.

The remains of Stephen D. Hess, the deceased superintendent of the Citizens' Water and Gas Company, took place this afternoon, at two o'clock, from the family residence on West Lloyd street. The attendance was very large, many of the most prominent and influential citizens of the town forming a part of the cortege. Large delegations were also in attendance from the four societies of which the deceased was a member, namely: Washington Camp, No. 112, P. O. S. of A.; Shenandoah Commandery, No. 14, Sons of America; J. W. Stokes Lodge, No. 315, I. O. O. F., and Anthracite Lodge, No. 1709, Knights of Honor. Services were conducted at the residence by Rev. William Powick, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, and the remains were interred in the Odd Fellows' cemetery. The pall bearers were Horace E. Dangler and John G. Thomas, representing the P. O. S. of A.; Daniel Sterner and Abraham Yost, of the I. O. O. F., and A. H. Roads and George Folmer, of the K. of H. There were a number of very beautiful floral offerings among them a "Gates Ajar" bearing an inscription in flowers: "Superintendent S. W. C." DONAVAN.

The funeral of James Donovan, who was killed by a fall of coal in the Shenandoah City colliery on Thursday, took place this morning from the family residence on South Emeric street. The cortege proceeded to the Annunciation church on West Cherry street at 10 o'clock, and after the celebration of high mass proceeded to the Pennsylvania depot and by the 11:45 a. m. train to Pottsville, the interment being made in No. 3 cemetery at that place. The attendance at the funeral was large and many people escorted the remains to their last resting place. The pall bearers were Thomas Conners, Patrick Graham, Luke Welch, John Mullabey, John J. Reilly and Matt. Giblin.

FAREY.
Mrs. Julia Fahey, wife of the noted sprinter, was buried to-day. At nine o'clock this morning the funeral proceeded to the Annunciation church, where high mass was celebrated. The remains were interred in the Annunciation cemetery.

SAROKO.
The funeral of Andrew Saroko, the man who was killed on the Lehigh Valley railroad on Friday, also took place to-day. Mass was celebrated in St. George's Lithuanian church, on South Jardin street, and the Lithuanian band and society escorted the remains to their last resting place on the hill.

Judge of Election.
The removal of Fred. H. Hopkins, Sr., to Mahanoy City, left the office of Judge of Election in the Second ward of this town vacant and petitions were filed with the court at Pottsville to have the vacancy filled. The court to-day disposed of the matter by appointing George Holvey to fill the vacancy.
